NUMB. 3064

TUESDAY DECEMBER 27, 1743.

Madrid, December 11.

HE 5th of this Month the Court returned from the Escorial to Buen-Retiro. On the 6th the King, the Queen, and all the Royal Family, received there the Compliments of the Grandees, the Foreign Ministers, and a great Number of Persons of Distinction. The King has lately made a military promotion, from whence we apprehend that an Augmentation is at Hand. Our last Advices from Barcelona say, that they have six Gallies there upon the Stocks. The French Ambassador has given the strongest Assurances to our Court, of his Master's Resolutions instantly to fulfil his Engagements, particularly those which relate to the Fleet; for the Service of which, when it shall be completed to 50 Men of War of the Line, his Catholic Majesty has promised to issue 1,000,000 of pieces of Eight, and to advance the like Sum for the Contingencies of the French Troops, within 14 Days after Advice shall be received of their Embarkation. It is thought not a little strange here, by such as see foreign News Papers, that the Marriage of the Dauphin of France with our Infanta should be so far advanced, while not a Word is said of it here, nor any Preparations made toward that Princess's Departure.

Basle, December 21. It was resolved in a Council lately held in Berne, that the French should not be permitted to levy, within the Territories of that Canton, any of the new Companies which are mentioned in his most Christian Majesty's Edict; and the Canton of Zurich is also come to the same Resolution. In some other Cantons, however, Permissions have been granted, but without any Effect, the People having, at present, no Sort of Stomach either to the French or Spanish Service; not on Account of ill Usage, as some People have reported, but because they are ill paid; and see very plainly, that the Times are coming in which they shall be paid worse. It is besides certain, that while there is a Spanish Army in Savoy, the Helvetic Body can never be thoroughly satisfied.

Frankfort, December 30. Prince Waldeck, who has been here some Days, set out this Morning for his own Dominions. Baron de Lofs, Minister from the King of Poland, as Elector of Saxony, is also gone to Dresden; and Field-Marshal Seckendorff is retired for some time to his own Seat. The Queen of Hungary's Minister, Baron Pahlm, does not propose to stay here any Time, but to set out for the Courts of Mentz, Coblenz, Cologne, &c. in order to execute certain Commissions on the Part of the Queen, his Mistress. It is whispered, that he has talked of Peace upon such Terms, as are like to engage the Attention of the Imperial Ministers; who, it is observed, pay him more Court than on his first Arrival, when they took no Notice of him, even in Publick Places.

Fribourg, December 22. The French have entirely finished their great Work on the Right Bank of the Rhine, and immediately after began to erect a Wooden Bridge of Communication between that Work and the Town of Hunningen; but, at present, we do not perceive any Inclination in them to pass the River with Troops so considerable as to give us any just Uneasiness; notwithstanding which, Care has been taken to reinforce all our advanced Posts, so as to prevent our suffering by Surprise. We have arrested lately two French Spies; one a Peasant of Alsace, and another belonging to a Village in this Neighbourhood. A Third, of more Consideration than either of these, whose Name is Lens, and who is a Burgess of Basle, has been taken up there, at the Request of the Marquis de Priep, Envoy from her Majesty to the Swiss Cantons. The Magistrates of that City have granted Leave to the French to raise two new Companies; but nobody has hitherto shown any Desire to engage in this Undertaking.

I R E L A N D.

The Speaker's Speech to his Grace William Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland.

May it please your Grace,

It is with the greatest Pleasure that, in Obedience to the Commands of the Commons, I attend your Grace with the two Bills of Supply by them granted to his Majesty, which they have agreed to with the utmost Chearfulness, Unanimity, and Dispatch.

We are so truly sensible of the Blessings we enjoy under his Majesty's most auspicious and glorious Reign, of his constant Paternal Care of the Religion and Liberties of his People, and of his unwearied Endeavours to preserve both, by maintaining the Balance of Power in Europe; for the Support of which, he has lately chosen to expose his precious Life to so great and imminent Dangers, that we shall always think it our trust Interest, as well as indispensable Duty, to continue, as we always have been, most firmly and zealously attach'd to his Majesty's Person and Government.

My Lord, the long Experience we have had of your Grace's Goodness, Prudence, and honourable Frugality, with regard to the Publick, hath greatly endear'd you to us; and your known Integrity leaves us no Room to doubt, but that, on your Return to the Royal Presence, your Grace will, by a just and faithful Representation, continue to improve the good Opinion which, we hope, his Majesty hath always had, of the unfeigned Duty and Affection of his most loyal and grateful Subjects, the Commons of Ireland.

Maryborough, December 15. Last Tuesday six Prisoners in this Place fled off their Bolts, and broke out at the back Part of the Jail. They were discover'd by a Boy as they were running thro' a back Part of the Town with the Bolts in their Hands, and by the Vigilance of the Commanding Officer, and some of the Gentlemen quarter'd here, they were conducted to their old Quarters, and heavily iron'd.

Dublin, December 20. Last Monday Night a Gang of Villains arm'd with Cutlasses, &c. abused all they met, but particularly Mr. Burrows, a Surveyor of Excise, who now lies dangerously ill of the Wounds he received from them.

On Tuesday came on the Trial of Mr. William Allum, Butcher, for the Murder of Mr. Barret, when the Jury found him guilty of Manslaughter.

Yesterday Morning one Eivers, a Tobaccoist in Thomas-street, and his Wife, falling out about a Woman of ill Fame whom he kept Company with, a Servant-girl of theirs interposing, he beat her so violently that she died on the Spot. The Watch seiz'd them, and they are both sent to Newgate.

His Grace the Lord Lieutenant has been pleas'd to sign the proper Warrant for presenting Edward Cassidy, Clerk, to the united Rectories of Lynn, Moyliscar, and Carrige, in the Diocese of Meath; void by the Death of Dr. Philip Whitingham.

C O U N T R Y N E W S.

Bristol, December 24. This Week died Capt. Burroughs, a Gentleman greatly esteem'd by the trading Part of this City.

Henry Payne, who was the other Person concerned in the Murder of Ruddle, Sir Robert Cann's Coachman, has since his being apprehended, made his Confession of the said Murder, to the following Effect: That on the Day the Murder was committed, he and Burnet, by joint Consent, went together up Stokes Croft, and thro' two Fields; that in the second Field Burnet took, from under some Hay, two Hedge-Skates, that he had hid there some Time before; that they went thro' a Gap in the Hedge, and cross'd the Road, and went over a Gate into another Field, where was a Mow of Hay, when Burnet lent Payne his brownish Coat, Burnet having a Frock on; that then they came over a Gate into the Road, when a Waggon and several People came by, and at last a Man riding on a Horse, which Burnet took hold of, and asked the Man for his Money; that the Man reply'd, He was a Gentleman's Servant, and had no Money; on which Burnet knock'd him down, whilst Payne stood on one Side, and desir'd Burnet, as he was a Servant, to let him go, and, for God's Sake, not to hurt him. That then the Man getting up, went towards Burnet, when Burnet struck him a second Time on the Head, and fell'd him again, saying, The Man resist'd. That at first, before Ruddle was knock'd down, it was agreed between them that Payne should go before, and if he met any Person he thought not worth robbing, he should say, Good Night, Sir; and, on meeting Ruddle, Payne did say, Good Night. That, notwithstanding, Burnet stopp'd him, and knock'd him off his Horse. That he, Payne, held the Horse, while Burnet was fumbling about the Deceased, and, as he believed, robbing him. That after this they both came away together, and went arshware the Fields to Burnet's Lodgings, and there he pulled out his Money, saying he had got but Sixpence, five Halfpence and two Farthings; and that as Payne was a poor Man and had a Family, he would give him the Sixpence, which he accordingly did.

That after this they went to the Three Tuns, and had a Quart of Ale, which Burnet paid for, and then they parted; and being inform'd that Burnet was taken up, he, Payne, went out of Town, to a little boarded Place by Cotham's Lodge, and there hid himself for about eight Hours, and in the Evening came from thence thro' Bristol; and as he was going on in the Road, he was apprehended by Mr. Thomas Wright.

Now Andrew Burnet, in his Confession before Sir Robert Cann and Mr. Alderman Elton, on Friday, Dec. 17, says, That in the Evening, that Night Sir Robert Cann's Coachman was robb'd and murder'd, he was at Work at Mr. Allen's in Red-Cross-street, attending the Masons when Payne came, and desir'd him to go with him to Stokes-Croft, to see a Job of Work, whether they both went, till they came beyond the Dog-Kennel; when Payne pulling a large Hedge-Skate out of a Hedge, said, He would have a Goose, or knock the first Man down that he met. That thereupon Burnet going towards Bristol, met a Man on Horseback, about 20 Yards distant from Payne, who was coming after him, and hearing a Blow, and looking back, saw the said Man fallen from his Horse; after which the said Payne came up, and told him, he had got a Silver Watch, and a Sixpence, which he offered to Burnet, but he refus'd to receive the same. That about 10 Days after, a Robbery being committed on Durdham-Down, Payne came to Burnet's Room, bringing the Watch with him, and desir'd Burnet to hide the same; and left it on a Table in the Room, and then went away. That about a Fortnight after the said Burnet exchanged the Watch with one Harry, a Carpenter, for a Tortoise-shell Watch and 20 Shillings.

Burnet has been a most notorious Fellow, having committed divers Thefts and Villanies in this City; for it is not many Months ago he robb'd a Wash-house in Frog-lane, of a considerable Quantity of fine wet Linen, for which he received the round Sum of 500 Lashes. But he has confessed several other Things, particularly in robbing, with one Page and Payne, some small Time before the Murder, Mr. Shipway's Pond of Cotham of ten Ducks. Tuesday they were both sent to Gloucester-Castle, chain'd together upon one Horse, and seem'd to behave with great Sorrow of Heart.

Extrait of a Letter from on board the Vernon, Capt. James, bound from Jamaica to London, formerly commanded by Capt. Braginton, dated the 7th Instant.

On the 12th of October last, having a strong Gale of Wind, and a great Sea, our ship prov'd so very leaky, we could not keep her free, so were obliged to throw over 14 of our large Guns. On the 20th of November, being then in Lat. 49 : 30, Long. 14 D. West from London, we were attack'd by a Spanish Privateer of St. Sebastian. They came down upon our Starboard Bow, when we hail'd 'em, and ask'd 'em, How the Land bore from us? They answered, N. N. E. about 100 Leagues. They went astern of us, and wore quite round, and then came on our Larboard Side before they fir'd. Our Captain stood the Deck as long as possible, and we fir'd Muskets as fast as we could; they return'd it with a Volley of Small Arms, so very hot, that our Captain was obliged to leave the Deck; and they dropping astern of us again, our Captain went to the Cabin Window to fire, but they bring in at him, he received a Shot in his Left Arm, which enter'd about two Inches below the Joint, and went clear up his Arm, and into his Body. By the Badness of the Weather our Powder was so very wet, that our great Guns would not go off. About half an Hour after Five they boarded us on our Starboard Side, and cutting up our Decks, and firing down our Gratings so fast, as oblig'd us to strike. The seventh Day our Surgeon cut off the Captain's Arm, about five Inches from his Body, and on the eighth he died. We were carried into Brest in France, after a Passage of 15 Weeks.

Last Week died the Rev. Mr. Becher, Son of the late Mr. Alderman Becher of Bristol, one of the Chaplains to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and Rector of Temple and St. Stephen's in Bristol.

The Mary, Hammond, a Dunkirk Trader, is lost near Dunkirk.

The Lady Anna-Sophia, Hans Kuyper, from Hamburg to Lisbon, is lost near Dunkirk; the Ship is beat to Pieces, and Part of the Bale Goods drove ashore.

The Neptune, Brookes, from London to Leghorn, was boarded by a Privateer off Mayork; but disengaged his Ship, and hath brought nine Spaniards with him into Leghorn.

Yesterday died of the Small Pox, at his Lodgings in Fenchurch-street, William Whitchurch, Esq; a Gentleman much esteemed for the many amiable Qualities he possessed, which makes his Death universally regretted by those who had the Pleasure of his Acquaintance.

The Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor has presented the Rev. Mr. Thomas Dawson to the Vicarage of Otley in the County of York.

We are credibly informed that his Majesty has given a Grant of his Palace at Greenwich, wherein the late Sir John Jennings lived, to his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland; and we hear, that it is to be fitted up for his Country Seat.

Yesterday Morning a Fire broke out in St. Katherine's Court at St. Katherine's, but by timely Assistance it was extinguish'd without doing much Damage.

Yesterday the following Numbers were drawn Prizes in the State Lottery, viz. No. 70,238, 22,323, 18,351, 100 l. each.

Tho' in a very few Days the Lottery will be finish'd, yet there remains in the Wheel one Prize of 2000 l. four of 1000 l. several of 500 l. besides a large Number of 100 l. 50 l. &c. and the last drawn of 1000 l.

No. 19,789, the last drawn in the last Lottery, was sold by Messieurs Lowe and Berry, and divided; and the last drawn in most of the late Lotteries, they have either sold, register'd, or shar'd.

The present low Price of Tickets enables them to sell Shares and Chances on exceeding moderate Terms, warranted undrawn; and as they examine no Tickets during the Hours of drawing, their Numerical Book is much resorted to after Three o'Clock, to correct erroneous Informations. Most Money is given for Blanks and Prizes at their Office, which is most conveniently situated in Stationers Alley, being a Passage from Ludgate-street to Pater-noster Row.
